Remarkable Scene in the Old Bailey

. WRITER OF THREATENING LETTERS

Policemen and a Number of Prison Wardens-The Exploits of the Prisoner Before Capture,

London, Nov. 21.—There was held at the Old Bailey, before Judge Hawkins, one of the most remarkable trials in the istory of British jurisprudence. It was the trial, on the charge of blackmail, of a mysterious individual known as the "French Colonel," as "Le Marand," and as "Briscony Grant," and as "Capt. An-derson," and as "Charles Grant." This distinguished gentleman's real name is not known. He says he is a Dane, but the police believe him to be a well-known American criminal who has "worked" both the United States and Burope for years past, and who has made large sums of money by his operations as a "knight of industry." There are a number of charges piled up against the "French colonel," but the one which he was placed on trial for was that of threatening to murder the Baroness Rolsover, who resides in one of the most aristocratic quarters of London, No. 13 Grosvenor place, and with also threatening to murder Lady Jessel, the widow of the late master of

Mr. Sims prosecuted and Mr. Scarlett Refended the prisoner. Lady Jessel, who was called to the witness stand, deposed that, during the afternoon of July 17 last she received

The lotter to Haroness Bolsover, was afterwards shown, was in terms mewhat similar to those used in adressing Lady Jessel. The baroness vas directed by the "French Colonel," to place "No. 4 against her advertise-ment, and she was warned if she did not send the money there was "dynamito or a thousand other ways by

If you know who I am I feel sure you would plty me, to see that I am come to an actility this which is highly criminal and void of all humanly feeling. I knew you once, but second.

At this point Judge Hawkins and the testimony introduced with the view of identifying the writing of the prisoner and comparing it with that of the blackmailing letters. James Hall, a clerk, said that he know the prisoner by the name of "Charles Grant" and that from 1888 to 1889 he (Hall) was in the employ of the prisoner, known as the "French Col-enel," as a clock. The prisoner, he said, was then living at S York place, Baker-street, and had formerly lived in Charlotte street. So far as he, witness, knew, the prisoner then carried on the business of a private inquiry agent, having an office in the strand. The witness continuing, said he had frequently seen the prisoner write, and identified the threatening letters placed in evidence as being the writing of the French Colonel.

Miss Annie Desmond, the lady's daughter, deposed as to the writing of letters produced, and as to its similarty with the letters which she had found n the prisoner's room. She said she is painful but not dangerous, had no doubt that the blackmailing let-ters were written by the French colonel, and also testified to finding in GROWING MORE KIND writing of the prisoner.

The prosecution then placed in evience a letter, written in violet and in dissioners and complaining of the con lust of a policeman, and it was claimed to be in the handwriting identical with those of the blackmaring letters. After a considerable amount of evi-

The detective also said that while a

The prosecution, of ourse, asserted that there was no post live ground to doubt that the prisone as guilty on both charges, and the decome, naturally, claimed that there was not the slightest reason to imagine that the prisoner was guilty, claiming that the prosecution had utterly foiled o prove that the theatening letters were written by the prisoner.

Judge Hawkins, in his charge to the nry, dwelt at length upon the great importance of the jury being thor-nighly convinced that the threatening etters were written by the prisoner here should be no doubt in their ninds, he added, that the threatening etters were actually written by the risoner.

"He's poisoned himself," somebody cried in the room. There was a scene of great confusion. Everybody seemed to spring to their estand to be desirous of seeing the prisoner. The court room was crowded o the doors with friends and acquaintnees of the many aristocratic ladies in-erested more or less in the trial of the French Colonel" and Jammed with he usual audience of sensation lovers, ected to be usen of surging humanity. number of prison wardens were bending over the prestrate prisoner in their efforts to restore him to consciousness, the French colonel suddenly struggled to his feet, hit a policeman between the eyes, knocking him sprawling and then began as terrible a seen as was ever witnessed in an English court. The prisoner fought like a season is hitting and litting the deven maniae, hitting and biting the dozen po-licemen and wardens who, for some time, were utterly unable to overpower him. Screams, yells and hoarse cries of the struggling men, created a minialies fainted, others rushed wildly for the combatants or for the doors where, for a few moments at least, the scene resembled Bedlam let loose. Finally the policemen and wardens managed to everpower the desperate French colonel, and order once more reigned n the Old Bailey, the seens of so many

The jury, after having been out one nour, during which, it is understood, he question of the identity of the prisoner's handwriting with that of the threatening letters was freely dis-ensed, returned and the foreman solemnly announced that they found the prisoner, Charles Grant, otherwise The Reench Colonel," guilty on both charges. The judge then announced that he would defer passing sentence on the prisoner. The latter was removed from the court room and the Old Bailey was soon cleared of its excited, gossiping crowd of aristocratic people who vowed that the day was people who vowed that the day was well spent since they had witnessed one of the most exciting, sensational and interesting trials in the history of British law There are a number of other serious harges against the "French Colonel, notably that of forging checks and at-tering them upon the St. James branch of the London and Westminster bank. Upon these charges in detail, of forging and uttering a check for $1,000 dated September 3, 1991; of forging and uttering a check for $750 dated September 21, 1893; and for having in his possession, without lawful authority, a bank bill of exchange, dated Septem-ber 21, for $750. The "French Colonel" was committed for trial at the Westminister police court quite recently. Should be be found guilty of this secand hatch of charges, and should the other blackmailing cases be pressed the prisoners' sentence may aggregate about 100 years or so in prison.

condent of the United Press has made spondent of the Officer Fress has made special inquiries to ascertain the condi-tion of public feeling on the subject of the difficulty with the United States. He finds that the flery sentiment which revailed against Americans has considerably cooled down. The Chilians talk more rationally as to the American demand for redress, and there is a growing disposition to see that justice is done to those who assaulted the American sailors, and killed two of them. Undoubtedly the report telegraphed from New York of the formidable fleet said to be on its way to Pacific waters has something to do with the change o sentiment in Valparaiso at least. The people here are not anxious for a bomburdment. They have come to the conclusion that the United States is in carnest, and the more intelligent among them have taken pains to ascer-tain something about America's power and resources. They understand no that if Americans should decide upon a bombardment, they would not be deterred by interference of other nations in behalf of Chili, and that the Chilians would have to take care of themselves. Conse quently Americans are treated with more respect, and there is no disposition to do violence to American officers or seamen. Capt Schley's conduct meets with univeral praise. He has been calm and deliberate under the most provoking circumstances, and this combined with dignity and firmness, has won him the respect even of the lower

There is no quote that in some instances physical torture is applied, although the law forbids it. During the recent struggle neither side hesitated to use tortures of the most horrible kind in order to extort confession, and in most cases the Chilian police wink at such cases the Chilian police wink at such modes. There is no reason to believe that any of the Chilians implicated in the riot have been tertured. On the contrary, the general report is that their treatment has been very mild, and that Judge of Crimen Poster has not been auxious to elicit facts that would strengthen the cases of the United States.

Much has happened of late to depress business and shake confidence, yet confidence is not shaken and the volume of unsiness is still close to the greatest ever attained. The bank failure at Boston caused scarcely a ripple of excitoment. The failure of speculative banks at Borilo has been industricusty used to decrees stocks during tained. The French war office has a perfect set of drawings of every German forti-fication, with the strength in armament of the different posts, the mili-tary roads, and every feature bearing upon military movements in Sermany. This fact is well known in Berlin, and has caused deep chagrin to the kaiser, who sees in it the evidence that men in whom he confided must have been pur chased by Fronch generals. The office at St. Petersburg has been fo some time anxious to get copies of these maps, which are jealously guarded by the French war ministry, and it is believed that M. de Giera has had something to say upon the subject An interesting incident occurred in the streets yesterday when M. De Giers was being driven in the carriage of the Baron de Mohrenheim. The coachman accidentally ran down a workingman, hurting him severaly. The man made an outcry at first and called for the gendarmes; but when some one said i was the carriage of the Russian ambas-sador, the man smothered his pain and taking off his cap, shoted: "Vive Russia; vive he ezan." time of her death was buried at Olinton How many people in Macon county Thursday. . She was a Virginian by birth ong remember by anything that was done for the people and the farmers of this and came to Clinton from West Liberty, country by that officer, the name of the O., 20 years ago. he man who was at the head of the Department of Agriculture during the diministration of Grover Cleveland? Not one in five hundred, and yet it is but is much excitement over the sweep and three years since that administration to I fatality of the disease. which Norman J. Coleman was at the road of the Department of Agriculture,

In three years after the Harrison administration has gone out of power, does any one suppose that there will be one man out of five hundred who cannot in an instant recall the fact that Jerry Rusk was Secretary of Agriculture under Har-Why is this? The answer is Norman J. Coleman done nothng of importance for the agricultural classes, while Jerry Rusk has never coused to onen the importance of Amerian agriculture to the front, and he has een rewarded with unbounded success a accomplishing many things of Naional importance for the agriculturalists of the country. So popular has he made his department that at the recent meeting of the National Farmers' Congress at Sedulia, Mo., made up of representative farmers of all political parties and from every state in the Union unanimously adopted a resolution of thanks to Secretary Rusk for the wonderful work he has accomplished in the interest of agricul-

All these facts are easily accounted for. President Harrison selected his cubinet with care, having special care to select those who, in his judgment, were well fitted for the places to which he called them. The result has been that the administration has been a beginess one. from top to bottom. There is not a lummy at the head of a single department. The administration has been a business one from the beginning. It has and no pyrotechnic policies to advecate for the purposes of dress parade and to attent the fact that it had un existence, but on the other hand, it hent itself to the task of serving the people; and eminent success is thus far its loward.

Even the Department of Argiculture which heretofore has been regarded as not even an ornament, has been raised to one of the most important and is so recognized by the people everywhere. People may inquire if they regard it of sufficient importance to know, who was at the head of the Department of Agriculture under Cleveland, and wait in vain for fan answer, but we never bave anybody inquire who is Secretary of Agrionliure under Harrison—because everyoody knowe who Jerry Rusk is.

Minister Egan. A rumor has gained circulation to the effect that the Chilian government is about to request the withdrawal of Minister Egan, alleging that he is not acceptable to that government. This may or may not be true, but if true it is safe to eay that the request will not be granted until all the pending differences between the two governments have been adjusted. What objection the new goverament can have to Egan's conduct is hard to understand. It is true that some of the Balmaceda party are protected by Egan, but it is equally true that Mr. Egan protected insurgent refugees as authfully as he is protecting the Balmaediste. He has been acting from hausue molives alone. So it seems that he present objection to Egnn is not based on justice. There may be and The coming women probably are other causes for the Chilian objection to Mr. Egan. The chances are can be healthy. She will be, that the following from the New York

The Decatur Grocery Trust.

There can no longer be any doubt as to the existence of a Grocery Trust in Decatur. One of the leading, most responsible and enterprising members in the Trust comes out and openly advertises its existence and their membership therein. After five weeks of consultation, contortion and St. Vitus' dance, the Trust has authorized one of its members to meet our former advertised price on one article, namely, sugar. Out of more than 500 articles they meet our former price on one. If our customers would pay us the trust price on the other 499 articles we would make them a present of all the sugar they could possibly consume, and besides feed their horse and cow on it. On figuring up our sales for the last five weeks we find that if we had sold the same kind and quantity of goods at the Gro-cery Trust prices we could have given away all the sugar we have sold and still have been more than $400 ahead of what we got.

Thanksgiving day matenee and night Thursday, Nov. 26th, Sutton's Big Uncle Tom's Cabin company. This company phis University students Big Band and orchestra.

One cannot help but wonder why it is that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" always proves a drawing card, and yet there is nothing very wonderful about it when once the plot and presentation of this realistic drama is taken into consideration. We have read "Uncle Tom's Cabin" as many as twenty times and always with absorbing interest, and so, too, we have seen it presented on the stage forty times, and it seems as it we enjoy the last better than any previous rendition. There are some plays like "Uncle Tom" and "Rap Van Winkle" that will never wear out. There is that about the plot of "Uncle Tom" Cabin"—a combination of drama, comedy, wit, humor and pathos, all biended so naturally and realistic—that the andience lives through it all, become part of the players on the at all, become part of the players on the stage and have their sympathise aroused to a degree that makes them feel as if they were witnessing a real drams of every day life.—Ingervoll.

It is a comedy-drama, brimful of langh, sensation and genuine pathos, with new and magnificent scenery, expressly painted for this production; stupendous mechanical effects. The company includes the well-known frish character, Amy Ames, and other well-known professionals.

A New Screw Driver.

The H. Mueller Manufacturing com pany will begin within several weeks the manufacture of a new screw driver which is the latest and best invention of the kind before the public. This company is at present manufacturing a combination screwdriver and drill. Owing to the large amount of work necessary to be put on the metrument, a large price is necessarily charged for the screwdriver. The latest driver is more simple, yet more durable than the first and it can be made to retail at a price much less than the former. The company are also making a small hand screwdriver, which consists of a holder and three different sized bits. Decatur is fast growing famous for her manufactories and industries, and these Manufacturing company are certain to evulutionize the screwdriver industry.

FAILED TO LAND.

Hespanded To.

Montevideo, Nov. 21.—There is an indefinite report of an attempt on the part of Fonsecu's naval force to land a body of troops near Barbosa, a small port in the north of Rio Grande do Sul, not far distant by land from Port D'Alegre The water proved too shal-low for the vessels to come near the shore, and a hostile display by an armed force of the junta deterred the Fonseea admiral from attempting to land in small boats. Fonseea's vessels did not throw any shells, or attempt to injure Barbosa, keeping up apparently a pretense of friendliness, to which the people on shore did not respond in a sinilar spirit. The junta has sent an additional force to Rio Grando do Sul, that place being the key to the situation of the standard of tion from a defensive point of view.
